Senator Wiliam Alden Smith Says He Wants the Truth, All of It.

MEANS TO DIG OUT THE FACTS

To learn the absolute truth about the Mexican situation and to let the world know it, United States senator William Alden Smith, of Michigan, arrived in El Paso Friday afternoons to begin an investigation of the affair in the Mexican republic and on the border.

He immediately got to work and opened the hearing Saturday morning to the city bell.

in the city hall.

Senator Smith is chairman of the subcommittee of the foreign relations com-mittee appointed by the senate to inves-tigate whether or not the revolutions in Mexico and Cuba were aided or fomented by American money or by people who are residents of the United States. He is accompanied by his family, has a suite of rooms at the Sheldon and is prepared to continue the investigation as far as possible. He and senator Albert B. Fall are the two members of the subcommittee of the senate who are taking an active part in this investigation. After spending several days here, senator Fall went to Los Angeles, where he ex-pected to meet senator Smith, and, after an investigation there, return to El Paso to continue the probe here, but senator Smith's decision to stop in El Paso and get to work at once on the business of the subcommittee may change the plans, and senator Fall may return to El Paso to cooperate with the chairman of the

Here After the Truth.

"I am coming here to do the work to which the subcommittee was assigned by the senate resolution," senator Smith said. "I will be guided entirely by circumstances in my work while here, and I will follow out the investigation wherever it leads and to whatever conclusions. We are going at this thing in a thorough and businesslike way and to do what is expected of the committee. I did not want the work, preferring a vacation, but I will go wherever necessary and do whatever is found expedient to get at the bottom of this matter. I am going into the investigation without am going into the investigation without any prejudice and I will be just as willing to find the situation one way as the other. If the facts do not justify apprehension which is felt regarding the whole affair, I will say so. If they warrant this apprehension, I will most certainly say so.

A Vexations Situation. "It is a vexatious and trying situation that has developed down here and it seems that somewhere there should be a solution. I do not care to give my ideas as to what this solution should be, at least not at this time. If the committee ieast not at this time. If the committee strikes anything for the public to know, I intend to let them have it. If there is anything indisputable, I will surely make it known. All I want is the truth—the absolute truth—and I am going to get it. The public won't be satisfiesd with less and anything I do will be with that object in view. Everyone in the east realizes that the Mexican situation is savious and I reconserved to me to the end is serious, and I propose to go to the end of this, and I am not easily haffled."

Intervention Is Discussed. "What about intervention, senator?"

"I intend to keep that separated from this investigation. That is an execu-tive function. Congress may spur the executive, as some congressmen did with Cleveland in 1894, but with little suc-

Smith Begins an Investigation.

Senator Smith opened his inversation of Mexican conditions Saturday morning at 11 oclock at the city hall council chamber. He has an official stenographer from congress, two secretaries and Fenton R. McCreery, formerly minister to Santa Domingo, secretary of legation at Mexico City, and one of the most experienced members of the diplomatic corps, who is assisting senator Smith in the conduct of the investigation.

Corralitos Manager Testifies.

E. C. Houghton, manager of the Corralitos Land and Cattle company, was the first witness to be sworn by senator Smith and questioned regarding the condition of affairs in Mexico. He said: "I am manager of the Corralitos Co., an American corporation engaged in mining, ranching and cattle raisur." The company is close corporation and its members are: E. D. Morgan, John T. Terry and others of New York: the Crosby estate of El Paso and others. George Laird is manager of the Carralitos land and 50 miles south of the line on the Mexico North Western railrond.

"What did you conceive to be your duty towards disorderly houses when you first went to the fourth district?"

"To proceed against them, get evidence and suppress them. That was my duty until I was ordered by my superior officer to do otherwien."

Hayes said that after Waldo had forbidden him to raid disorderly houses where there was no outside evidence of disorder, he (Hayes) instructed his men not to enter the house to get evidence. He added that he told Waldo what he had done and Waldo approved.

Hayes intimated that the official stenographic report of his conversation with Waldo wherein the alleged false statements were made, had been

WANTS GOMEZ TO GET INTO THE FRAY

Washington, D. C., Sept. 7.-Sr. Juan Pedro Didap, representing one has sent the following telegram to Emilio Vasquez Gomez, at San Antonio,

"In view of the fact that Gen. Orozco still remains at the head of the revolutionary forces, it appears very clear that you and your junta have been repudlated by the Mexican people now fighting for their liberties. This repudiation is because of your refusal to assume active leadership on Mexican soil, as repeatedly urged by me after obtaining information from the highest authorities here. By remaining on American territory, you have neediessly aroused American resentment against all Mexicans and brought about your own arrest for violation of the neutrality laws of this country. "If I do not receive assurances within 24 hours that you will fulfil your obligations to me and the revolutionary cause, I shall hold myself free form any connection with you and form any connection with you and rightly proceed only in behalf of the revolution, as I see fit. The revolutionary movement and the country at large have suffered a great deal for the lack of a civilian leader who could the lack of a civilian leader who could assume the provisional government and give protection to the huge foreign enterprises and business interests. For this lack of courage to assume responsibilities, we have been called bands of robbers and looters.

It is time to put a stop to these un-certain conditions in order to save the country's dignity. "Through true facts and documents, I have found out that senor Vasquez Gomez and bis junta have been acting Gomez and his junta have been acting separately from the people in the field and when they declared Gen. Orozco a traitor, they did not rely on the consent of the military forces. On the contrary it seems to me now that the Vasquista people have tried to avoid themselves troubles and wait for the giory of the victory, thus deceiving everybody and delaying the downfail of Madero.

ing everybody and delaying the downfall of Madero.

"Without and connection whatever with the chiefs of the northern army, they draw manifestos and make them appear as coming from the military leaders. Above all, the Vasquista junta, refused cognizance and repudiated by the men operating in the war against Madero, has created the enmity of all political parties in Mexico and brought about a state of affairs very delicate and serious in the international relations of Mexico. Adfairs very delicate and serious in the international relations of Mexico. Advised to cross the border, Vasquez Gomez has proved lacking of courage by continuing under a foreign flag. "All these things, and the personal political ambitions of his few followers, now make him unfit to continue at the head of any party and as bad a president as Madero himself. His fanatic followers, incapable to grasp the seriousness of the situation, are deceivers and traitbre to their own deceivers and traiters to their own

MORE TROOPS ARE SENT TO HACHITA

Following the news of the fight between United States troops and Mexican rebels on the New Mexico side of the international line near Hachita on Thursday night, information came to El Paso Friday night of a much more serious affray further west. This affair occurred early Friday, but owing to the distance of the troopers from a telephone, the news of the affair did not reach El Paso until Friday night, in telegrams from Douglas, Arix.

Four rebels were killed on Arizona soil and one was taken prisoner in this affray. Lee Hudspeth, a rancher 40 miles east of Douglas, arrived at Douglas last night with news of the fight which was between 13 United States cavalrymen stationed at the Lang ranch, 50 miles east of Douglas, and 30 rebels, in which four rebels were killed and one wounded and captured. The rebels are a portion of a band of 200, which reached the line at the Lang ranch during Thursday night. They came across at 3 oclock Friday morn-ne and tried to steal the horses of the ing and tried to steal the horses of the cavalrymen. The United States sol-diers opened fire.
